Hospice Foundation of America’s Program

SPIRITUAL NEEDS OF THE DYING

Self-Study ONLINE Course

DESCRIPTION
Understanding a dying person’s spirituality is a critical step in helping clinicians to empower clients in utilizing their spiritual strengths in coping. The webinar defines three spiritual needs of the dying person and offers a hands-on approach to techniques such as spiritual autobiography, planning and developing rituals, life review, and assisting clients to utilize other spiritual practices such as prayer or meditation. Yet effectively meeting the spiritual needs of the dying greatly depends on the wellbeing of clinicians. Compassion fatigue can create a barrier between clinician and patient, preventing both from finding meaning in the death and dying experience. Self-reflection and awareness when caring for the dying can empower clinicians to restore themselves and fulfill the spiritual needs of those being cared for.

PROGRAM DETAILS
Hospice Foundation of America has taken its popular webinar program and created a self-study course for professionals. EXPERT SPEAKERS
Kenneth J. Doka, PhD, MDiv, is Senior Vice President, Grief Programs at HFA and recipient of the 2019 Lifetime Achievement Award from the Association for Death Education and Counseling. He serves as editor of HFA’s Living with Grief® book series and its Journeys bereavement newsletter. He is a prolific author, editor, and lecturer; past president of the Association for Death Education and Counseling (ADEC); and a member and past chair of the International Work Group on Death, Dying, and Bereavement (IWG). In 2018, the IWG presented Doka with the Herman Feifel Award for outstanding achievement in thanatology. He received an award for Outstanding Contributions in the Field of Death Education from ADEC in 1998. Doka is an ordained Lutheran minister and a licensed mental health counselor in the state of New York.

Arion Lillard-Green, MTS, BCCC, BCPC, is a Spiritual Counselor with Goodwin House Palliative Care and Hospice in Falls Church, VA. In addition to her work as spiritual counselor, Arion is an advocate for making health education and health literacy accessible to all people through inclusion. She is also dedicated to making an impact on chronic illness within the African American community through outreach. Arion believes providers must build relationships earlier in the health continuum to truly meet the spiritual and medical needs of the dying. Most recently, Arion has served as a contributor to the development of provider resources and tools aimed to assist hospice and palliative care organizations with diversifying patient populations. She serves as a member of the National Hospice and Palliative Care Organization’s Diversity Advisory Council, a commissioner on the City of Alexandria’s Commission on HIV/AIDS, and consultant to organizations building programs to expand their reach to underserved communities. Prior to embarking on her hospice and palliative care career, Arion attended Indiana University (BAJ), Christian Theological Seminary (M.TS), clinical pastoral education and residency with the College of Pastoral Supervision and Psychotherapy (BCCC, BCPC). She looks forward to completing her Master of Health Administration from George Mason University this fall.

MODERATOR
Rabbi Gary S. Fink, DMin, is proud to serve as Senior Vice-President of Counseling and Family Support at Montgomery and Prince George's Hospices in Maryland, leading the Chaplaincy staff and supporting the Bereavement and Volunteer Departments. He has participated as a presenter for HFA programs on Spirituality and End-of-Life Care, Artificial Nutrition and Hydration at the End-of-Life, and Legacy and Spirituality. Rabbi Fink earned a Doctor of Ministry degree at Howard University School of Divinity concentrating in end-of-life care and counseling, and taught for ten years in the Thanatology Graduate Program at Hood College in Frederick, MD. He served 26 years in congregational ministry, and was named Rabbi Emeritus of Oseh Shalom Congregation in Laurel, MD. Current community activities include partnering with the American Muslim Senior Society to create programs providing advanced care for life-limiting illness.
