

LIVE DISCHARGE: REPERCUSSIONS AND MITIGATION STRATEGIES

DESCRIPTION:

Between 15% and 20% of hospice patients are discharged while still alive. One-third of these patients die within 6 months, often without hospice readmission. Join preeminent researcher Stephanie Wladkowski to discuss the impact of this challenging reality and suggestions for improving both policy and practice. Dr. Wladkowski will be joined by Kimberly Dansie and Liza Johnson of Community Nursing Services to explore how to communicate with patients and families to mitigate the impact of live discharge, as well as how this situation impacts the hospice metrics tracked by CMS and published in the CASPER report.

EXPERT PANELISTS:

Stephanie P. Wladkowski, PhD, LMSW, APHSW-C, is the Larry & Patty Benz Professor and a Professor of Social Work at Bowling Green State University. Dr. Wladkowski has several years of clinical practice experience as an independent licensed social worker in hospice and palliative care, which directly informs her research and teaching in health, aging, interprofessional education, and end-of-life care. Dr. Wladkowski's main research interest is focused on live discharge from hospice, or when individuals stop receiving hospice care due to no longer meeting the eligibility requirements. She continues to advance knowledge in this under-researched area through exploring the impact of live discharge on individuals with life-limiting illnesses and their caregivers, with careful attention to policy implications and practice opportunities.

Liza Johnson, RN, MBA, BSN, CHPN, is Vice President of Clinical Services at Community Nursing Service Home Health and Hospice, West Valley City, UT. Liza has work in the home health and hospice industry for almost 19 years. She obtained her Bachelor's in Nursing from Westminster School of Nursing and a Master's of Business Administration from the University of Wyoming. She started with Community Nursing Services as an RN case manager and served in multiple positions. Now as the Vice President of Clinical Services, she has a greater opportunity in the development of innovative programs providing exceptional medical care in a patient's own home. She has been an integral partner in the development of new collaborations with the University of Utah Medical Center and Huntsman Cancer Hospital including, the Intensive Outpatient Clinic, Huntsman at Home, Inpatient hospice and now Heal at Home. On a personal note, Liza shares that "I am a mother of four young adults and look forward watch our youngest march in the University of Utah's Marching Band this fall."

Kimberly Dansie, MBA HFA, is Vice President of Community Outreach at Community Nursing Service Home Health and Hospice, West Valley City, UT. Kimberly is passionate about improving the final years of Seniors and has worked towards that goal as a healthcare executive in the post-acute space for over 30 years.
