

NEW PUBLICATION

Improving Dying (2025)

Edited by Kenneth J. Doka and Amy S. Tucci
Foreword by Brad Stuart, MD

Improving Dying, sheds light on the important work going on at U.S. hospices and provides evidence that not all hospice care is equal. Many hospices go the extra mile with patient and family care, proving that the hospice ethos of specialized care is alive and well. Hospice and palliative care professionals, volunteers, and anyone who supports those at the end of life will find new insights, ideas, and techniques to care for dying patients.
